ORDER

This civil matter is before the Court on a Report and Recommendation (“R&R”) entered by United States Magistrate Judge Debra C. Poplin on March 4, 2021 [Doc. 5]. In the R&R, the magistrate judge recommends that the Court dismiss plaintiff’s pro se complaint as frivolous and refer plaintiff to Chief United States District Judge Travis R. McDonough, pursuant to Standing Order 18-04, to determine whether an injunction against further filings is appropriate. There have been no timely objections to the R&R, and enough time has passed since the filing of the R&R to treat any objections as waived. See 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1); Fed. R. Civ. P. 6(d), 72(b).¹

After careful review of the matter, the Court agrees with the magistrate judge’s recommendations. Accordingly, the Court ACCEPTS in full the R&R [Doc. 5] pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1), and ORDERS as follows:

1. Plaintiff's complaint is hereby DISMISSED, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2). The Clerk is DIRECTED to CLOSE this case.
2. Plaintiff is REFERRED to Chief United States District Judge Travis R. McDonough for his determination as to whether an injunction should enter pursuant to this Court's Standing Order 18-04.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
